

Work on the new railroad bridge progresses slowly.

Rainy weather interferes with the court house builders.

E. J. Thompson, the hardware man, has sold out.

Reeve & Work, grocers, have dissolved partnership, and divided assets.

Look out for Hawley's boot and shoe builds in a few days.

Our merchants, except those who advertise liberally, are complaining of dull times.

Sheriff How retires from office on the 19th prox. David has served his country well and faithfully.

Mrs. Ann Cook, formerly Armstrong, died at her residence a few miles west of Plymouth, last Tuesday.

The public schools will be closed during the session of the teachers' institute, November 7th to 12th.

After the 1st of January, next, we will not send THE DEMOCRAT to any subscriber who is more than one year in arrears. Dye mind that!

The sidewalks are becoming an unmitigated nuisance, unless their design is to aggravate foot travelers. They should be repaired or torn away.

Go to Brown's news depot for dailies, weeklies, monthlies and all the literature of the day, also stationery of all kinds.

John V. Cushman, near Tyner City, recently indulged the appetite of a bloodthirsty circular saw. He now has three thumbs on his right hand.

Mr. Samuel B. Corbaley, formerly of this town, but now of Indianapolis, was in town yesterday. His appearance indicates good living and a clear conscience.

Advertisers are requested to bring in their favors at an early day in the week as possible. We do not like to delay our paper even to accommodate our friends.

We have placed a number of our subscription accounts into the hands of James W. Maxey for collection, and we hope all on whom he calls will make a prompt response.

Several of our sportsmen spent the larger part of last week at the Kankakee, one result of which was the entire destruction, by Mr. A. C. Capron, of a wild goose one hundred and seven years old. Four days have now elapsed and it is not yet cooked tender.

Brown & Pershing have just received a stock of goods that will do honor to any town, and they are determined to sell them so cheap that the people will buy. They are good druggists and chemists, perfectly reliable in filling prescriptions, and will give entire satisfaction to all their customers.

There will be a state conference meeting of the Church of God, at Antioch, five miles south of Plymouth, to begin one week from to-day (Thursday) and continue three or four days. Trains on the C. C. & L. railway will probably stop for the accommodation of those attending.

Richard Corbaley offers his farm, five miles south of Plymouth, on the Michigan road, for sale on very reasonable terms. He will sell the entire tract or a portion of it as the purchaser may desire. The farm is a desirable one, and will no doubt sell readily. He will communicate particulars in our advertising columns next week.

Next Saturday, October 29th, we will call upon advertisers and others who have unsettled accounts with us. This will be the first call from us during the year, and our patrons cannot complain of importunities on our part. After the 1st of January next, our collections will be made quarterly, except with those who prefer to pay each week.

The clerical "dead beat," Rev. Billy Lusk, honored (I) our town with a visit last Tuesday. The distinguished gentleman has a "good job" at Niles, Mich., and it is hoped that in a short time he will be able to settle up his little account for a beautiful present he purchased at the expense of a friend—and also for "them boots" at New Carle, Ohio.

We spent a part of last Friday in Rochester—called on the editorial fraternity, and spent a few hours pleasantly with a number of personal friends. Mattingly, of the Spy, says he is slowly recovering from his demoralization consequent upon the result of the election in Fulton county, and hopes to be able to assume his wonted vigor in a short time. The Democrats there are in a delightful frame of mind, brought about by a contemplation of their recent victories. May they live long to enjoy them.

Our Bourbon correspondent takes leave of his "corresponding" duties and retires from reportorial labor. He furnished very readable articles for which he has our and our readers' thanks. We should be pleased to form an alliance with some expert quill-driver in that latitude to whom we will continue the same salary which our late correspondent received, and will settle promptly at the termination of each five years' service. The situation is a very desirable one, and applications will be attended to in the order in which they are received.

Teachers' Institute.

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned will hold a teachers' institute at the seminary building in Plymouth, commencing on Monday, November 7th, 1870, at 10 o'clock, a. m., and continue five days. A general attendance of all school teachers and those who intend to apply for license to teach, is respectfully and urgently requested.

The signs of the times indicate that our next institute will be the most interesting ever held in the county. On Saturday, the 12th day of November, there will be an examination of all who wish to obtain license to teach school in this county, and afterwards on the fourth Saturday in November, first Saturday in December, and on the third Saturday in each month, at the seminary building in Plymouth.

Township trustees will close the public schools during the session of the institute. Persons from the country attending the institute can obtain boarding on reasonable terms.

T. McDONALD, Examiner.

Benson's hall will be let for balls, parties and social gatherings, on reasonable terms. It is neat and convenient, and will afford ample accommodations for all ordinary occasions. Enquire of P. McDonald, at THE DEMOCRAT office.

MARRIED.

Tuesday evening, Oct. 26th, at the Parlor House in Plymouth, Geo. A. Edwards of Chicago, and Sarah J. Crandell, of Plymouth.

The worthy young couple have the best wishes of hosts of friends in Plymouth. The young men of Plymouth may object to Chicago beaux capturing our fairest daughters—but it exhibits sound discretion on the part of Chicago. The printers fared sumptuously on the bounties prepared for them on the occasion, and, in consequence, are contented and happy.

BUSINESS LOCALS.

SLATES, 10, 15, 20, 25 CENTS, AT THE POST OFFICE BOOK STORE.

We notice Mr. Todd, of the Model Drug Store, behind the counter again, after a severe illness of some weeks. He is a live man (when alive) and we may expect to see business at the "Model" brisk again. He has a splendid stock of drugs of all kinds—and will sell cheap. All of his old friends and customers will please call and see him.

BROWN says if he sells enough SCHOOL BOOKS this week, he will have a BRAND NEW SIGN next week, but for all to remember that he keeps a first class BOOK STORE at the POST OFFICE, and until then wishes his friends to bear in mind that he has no connection in any way whatever with any other person that may strive to sell to the public by using his GOOD NAME which he values at par. He will sell cheap, and is always ready to show his GOODS whether he sells or not.

H. A. Work has permanently located in the new room in Hoham's building, first door west of Thompson's hardware store, where he will keep a well selected stock of Groceries, Provisions, &c., to be sold cheap for cash. All his old patrons, and the public generally, are respectfully invited to call and make their purchases. Remember the place, Hoham's building, corner Lapore and Michigan streets.
